

Intro to SD Capstone – bekome (therapy matching platform)

Overarching user story (focusing on just the client):

As a therapy-seeker (client-user), I want to use technology to track how I feel and what causes me to feel the way that I do, so that I can see patterns in my feelings and feel better prepared to discuss them with my therapist.

Screen 1: Sign-in (Shanna)

- As a client-user, I want to enter my email address and create a password, which creates my account, if I do not already have an account.
- As a client-user, I want to enter my email address and password to log into my account, if I already have an account.
- As a client-user, I want to reset my password if I have forgotten the password to my account.

Screen 2: Home Page Panels (Shanna)

- As a client-user, I want to access a page where I'm able to see my history of mood records, and record my current mood after logging in.
- As a client-user, I want to access a page where I'm able to see my history of trigger events, and record a new trigger event after logging in.

Screen 3: Tracking Mood (Ankur)

- As a client-user, I want to be able to log my mood daily
- As a client-user, I want a daily reminder to log my mood
- As a client-user, I want to be able to log my mood for past days
- As a client-user, I want to be able to edit/update/delete my mood for past days
- As a client-user, I want to be able to see how my daily mood has changed over a period
- As a client-user, I want to be able to view my logged mood for a particular day in the past

Screen 4: My Triggers (Andre)

- As a client-user, I want to be able to see a history of the dates my trigger events occurred on
- As a client-user, I want to be able to see the symptoms associated with each individual trigger event
- As a client-user, I want to be able to see a summary of my trigger event symptoms in a bar chart
- As a client-user, I want to be able to view the symptoms associated with a set of logged trigger events over a specific timeframe
- As a client-user, I want to be able to click a button to add a new trigger event to my list

Screen 5: Log a Trigger Event (Linda)

The sketch shows a mobile app interface for 'bekome'. At the top left is the text 'bekome'. At the top right is a greeting 'Hi, NAME!' followed by a 'sign out' button. Below this is a 'Back' button and the text 'Log a trigger event'. There are two input fields: one for 'Date' and a larger one for 'Describe what happened'. Below these is a section titled 'How did you feel?' which contains a 3x4 grid of radio buttons. To the right of the grid is an 'Other' label followed by an input field.

- As a client-user, I want to access my trigger events after logging in.
- As a client-user, I want to be able to log a trigger event after logging in (including date, description, and what I felt).
- As a client-user, I want to save all the trigger events after I enter them to view and show to my therapist later.
- As a client-user, I want to be able to describe how I felt in the moment, including multiple, new, or unique feelings.
- As a client-user, I want to be able to type in my own responses for certain fields.
- ~~As a client user, I want my trigger event data to be secure so that only me or my therapist can view.~~
